

Harry Freedman

Customized Corporate Put-Ons

WHAT IS A PUT-ON?

Bringing in Harry to play the part of an industry expert or newly hired executive. He starts off for real, but after a few minutes of his outrageous quips, everyone realizes they've been had – and they love it!

CAN IT WORK FOR ANY GROUP OR ORGANIZATION?

ABSOLUTELY! Each of Harry's put-ons is completely customized to the client's need and situation. Sometimes the "spoof" takes the form of poking fun at a general topic you agree on with Harry; sometimes it's poking fun at specific people that you and Harry select. In either case, you can rest assured it will be a hit with your group.

Biography

Perhaps the only individual ever to have been profiled in the business sections of The New York Times, Miami Herald, Newsday, and Int'l Herald Tribune, Harry Freedman will create the perfect fake industry expert for your group, that has everyone fooled until they are roaring with laughter!

With nearly three decades of professional comedy experience, from the clubs of Las Vegas to the corporate boardroom, Harry Freedman is a comic you can trust. As a speaker, he has performed for hundreds of Fortune 1000 companies, and is frequently rated 'best speaker' at conferences. As a stand-up comedian, Harry is often opening for Ray Romano; has appeared on "Everybody Loves Raymond;" and was a staff writer for "Caroline's Comedy Hour." Harry has also written and directed a short film, "30 Minutes," which received terrific acclaim at the NY Int'l Independent Film Festival.

In addition, Corporate Audiences enjoy Harry's video shorts, where he interviews selected attendees (in character), to create a hilarious 8-10 minute piece played following his speech, as well as his humorous videographies of whole conferences. So when you think of finding the right performer to give your people a laugh-fest they will love and thank you for, two key words make all the difference: Harry Freedman!
that has everyone fooled until they are roaring with laughter!

Testimonials

Your performance was a big hit!

-Debra Weiser - VP: St. Paul Travelers

Harry was everything we hoped for and more! His material and performance exceeded our expectations in every way. Our audience absolutely loved him. He was also a pleasure to work with, making my job easier, and making me look good in the process to my superiors.

As you might guess, at Coca Cola, we are sticklers about detail. So we really appreciated that Harry reviewed his speech with us ahead of time. He is truly talented and we hope we can use him again soon.

- Jon Miller- Coca Cola

Working with Harry was effortless. I would recommend him for his professional manner, comedic skills and understanding of the nuances of our industry that all make him unique and memorable.

-David Lingafelter - President, Moen Incorporated

At KPMG Forensic, we are in the business of preventing and detecting fraud, and much to my surprise, you were able to fool our top-notch investigators. Your presentation was a great way to build team morale, break down social barriers, and have a few laughs after a long day. Thank you again for a job well done.
